

"I cannot recommend Anne enough for her talent, patience, and persistence to get the job done and done well! She listened and took the time needed to explain the process of creating a web site that is totally unique, different and stunning. A true "stand out" creative web site that truly reflects me and my business model. Thank you Anne for being the great professional that you are!"

"Anne designed a brochure to sell a house I was building in the Midwest at a time when the housing market was starting to "tank." We couldn't keep brochures in the display stand -- all 50 were taken in the first day --and the house sold to the first inquiry we received within a week of the launch. Anne's wonderful positioning of the architectural elevations, floor plans, and description of features sold the house. She's a highly creative professional that knows what resonates with buyers."

"When I was VP of Corporate Marketing at Pitney Bowes, we hired Anne to design several direct mail brochures and newsletters. These pieces were intended to demonstrate thought leadership, and Anne's intelligent and innovative designs really delivered on that promise. In addition, Anne was delightful to work with, and she never got upset when we made countless revisions."
